

How do you build a Better Barn? We've spent over thirty years perfecting the answer, and the result out-performs the average barn in every way. A Better Barn is chew-proof, kick-proof and darn near fire-proof.

It can handle heavy snow loads, high winds and tooth-rattling earthquakes. It's attractive, functional, and makes your horse chores easier. It's a good value for tiny budgets, enormous budgets, and every budget in between.

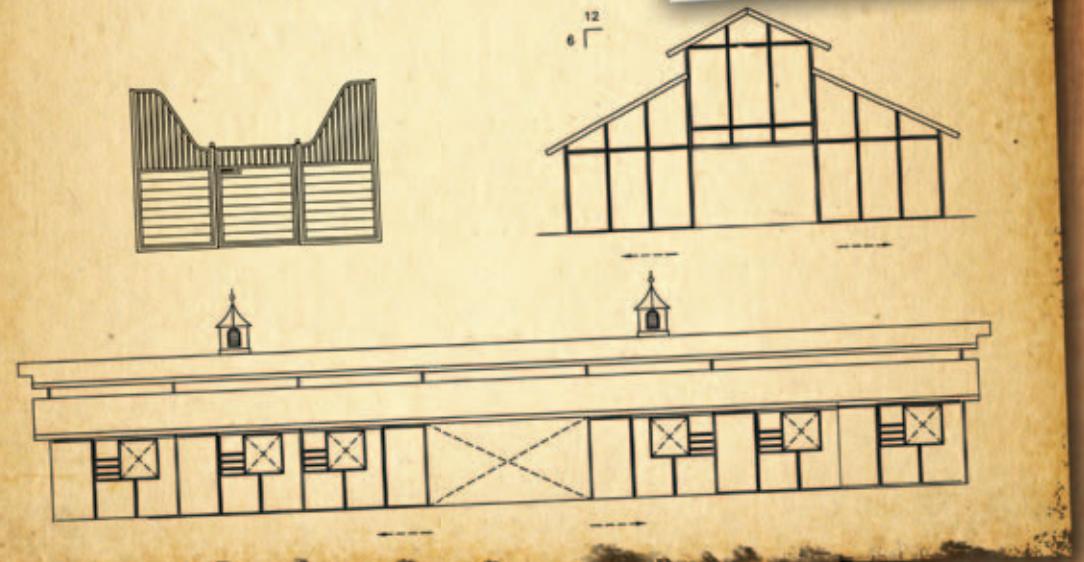

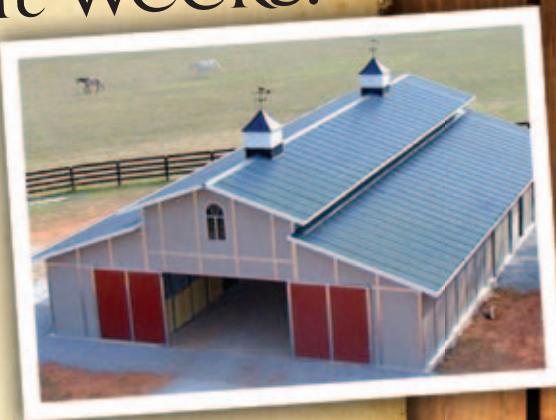

Unsurpassed quality.
0% fire spread rating,
intelligent design,
uncommon beauty
and versatility.

MDBarnmaster Estate Series

MDBarnmaster integrity with the attention to detail you desire.

You want a solid barn that's safe for your horse, but you also want upscale details that set yours apart from just another barn.

The MD Estate Series builds upon the solid, proven modular structure of MDBarnmaster, then adds a personal touch. Things like tongue and groove wood interiors and enhanced exterior options are just some of the features that make this a true Estate barn.

MDBarnmaster Estate Series

An Estate Series is more than just a barn...

It's built upon the proven MDBarnmaster structure, but adds elements that make it the place to enjoy the quality moments of being a horse owner.

Upscale Personal Touch:

- Estate Series Stall Fronts featuring beautiful wood facing.
- Box roof purlins for sleeker lines, eliminating the ability for birds and insects to nest.
- Tongue and groove interior available in your choice of natural wood.

Safest Horse Housing Product Available:

- Interior wall system that is Kick-Proof, Chew-Proof and has a 0% Fire Spread rating.
- Walls are easy to sanitize, keeping your horse safe from disease.

MDBarnmaster Integrity:

- 14 Gauge Galvanized Steel Frame built to last a lifetime.
- MDBarnmaster's exclusive, certified roof panels that are leak-free and stand up to high winds and heavy snow loads.

Virtually Unlimited Configurations:

- From single-stall shedrow to boarding facilities, our modular design allows the flexibility to build the barn of your dreams.
- Unlimited architectural style options, including four standard rooflines:

RCA

Gable

Gambrel

Shedrow

Unlimited Possibilities:

Below is an example of how an MDBarnmaster modular structure is used to build the dream equestrian facility.

Miniature Horse Stall Front
145" Standard Width

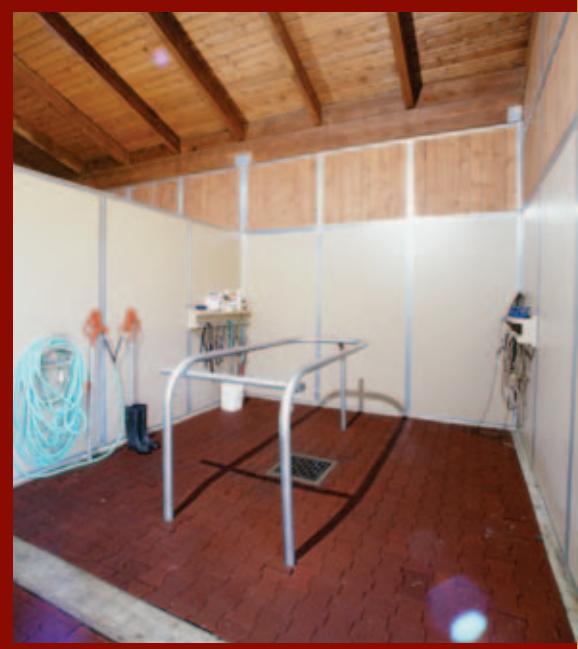

Our standard stalls are 12'x12', however, we can make them smaller for minis and ponies (such as 8'x8'), or larger for drafts, stallions, mare motels and other needs.

The possibilities, Limitless.

Even if all you need is a loafing shed or a modest backyard barn, it never hurts to window shop. At first glance, these barns appear to be entirely custom. But look at the walls in the picture above. See the MDBarnmaster panel pattern? The walls are faced with tongue and groove, with the seams hidden by custom battens.

To the immediate right is a safe and convenient wash stall with the optional wash rack.

Pictured here is an enormous 16' wide x 12' deep stall, showing all the labor saving options: automatic waterer, Lazy Joe Swing-Out Feeder, hay rack, and feed pan.

One of our most novel options is the Lazy Susan Tack Wall. Perfect for busy training facilities, one whole wall of the tack room rotates 180° around a center post to position your tack in the aisle where you can quickly switch tack around between various horses. At the end of the day, simply swivel the wall back and lock it for security.

MDBarnmaster Buildings

Loafing Sheds

Economic horse housing with the same quality you expect from MDBarnmaster.

Loafing sheds or Run-ins are an easy way to protect your livestock from the natural elements in the pasture. Loafing Sheds are built with our chew-proof, kick-proof wall system, and are available with either a gable or single slope roof profile.

Breezeway Shelters

A safe and natural way to shield your horses from mild weather conditions.

Perfect for mild climates, our MDBarnmaster Breezeway Shelters are an economical choice for providing your horse with a safe, comfortable escape from the elements.

Round Pens

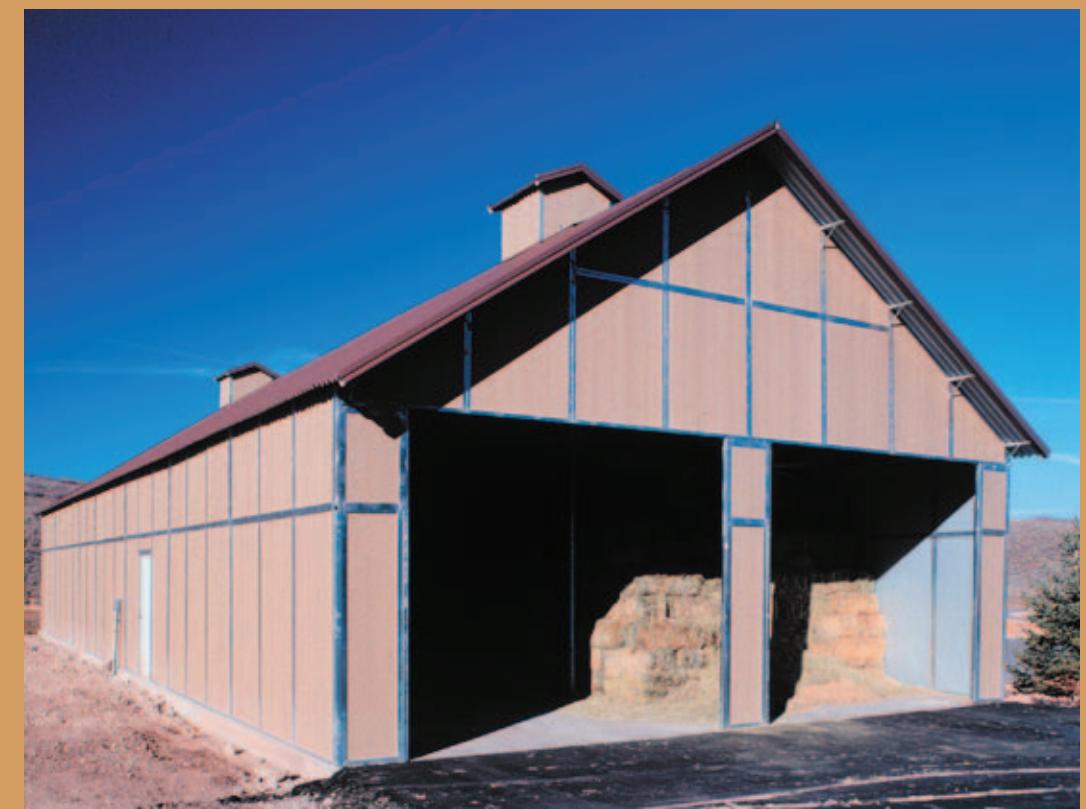

Solid walls make the safest Round pens.

Just like our barns, these round pens are kick-proof, chew-proof and low maintenance, offering a safe environment for training or turnout. And now, you can even order your MDBarnmaster round pen under cover, with a beautiful octagonal roof that offers rain and sun protection for year-round daily usability regardless of weather.

Freespan Buildings

There's always a need for storage to protect from the elements. Whether it's hay, heavy equipment, a smaller commercial business, warehouse or even a hanger for your airplane, our modular construction gives you the protection you need.

Design the building you need and customize it to your heart's content. Create an interior office that provides a welcome working environment right next to whatever it is you need to store, such as a product warehouse or aircraft hanger.

Horse people are in it for life. It's more than a hobby, it's the passion that drives us, fed by having our horses just outside our windows, watching them graze, gallop, scratch each other and enjoy a good roll in the dirt. We pass that love along to future generations, and to our friends and neighbors. This is not a passing fancy... this is our life.

This is why it pays to build a barn not just for what it will look like and do for you today, but in the decades to come. A plain wood barn is sometimes less expensive in the original price, but when you consider maintenance, aging appearance, and resale, MDBarnmaster is a far better value... and that's before you consider the effect your barn building decision will have on your horses' health and safety.

One wrong kick in a cement block barn can sideline your horse for months, or even forever. A broken stall board or protruding nail – from a kick in a wood barn – can do the same. A closed-in barn with poor ventilation and bacteria- and virus-harboring wood will quickly spread an illness through all your horses. One chewed wire or errant spark, and you have (heaven forbid) the horseperson's worst nightmare, a wood barn fire that rages out of control within a few short minutes. These injuries, illnesses and fires aren't rare, and aren't scare tactics, they are real dangers that arise from the daily challenges of keeping horses inside.

House your horses in an MDBarnmaster, and you'll be amazed how much healthier and happier they are on a daily basis. This is horse housing the way it's meant to be, taking account of their natures and their needs, and providing a safe, comfortable, durable barn for them to thrive.

MDBarnmaster. Build one for your life with horses... today, tomorrow, and 30 years from now.
